Free Support Forum Back Online

By Roger Keays, 6 December 2011

Some time ago, we set up a free support forum on the Sunburnt website to answer any questions you had about using our system. Sadly it got a little lost, but now it's back and even easier to use. You can access the forum directly from the Help menu when you login.

The good thing about the forum is that it is a shared space where other people can benefit from the answers to your questions as well, so don't hesitate to post any questions you have!
