House Stumps Online

By Sunburnt Technology, 27 May 2014

Steel-MAX is a Queensland based building products business. They design, make and sell a wide range of proprietary house stump and post fittings and other related sub-floor hardware components for the Australian building industry.

Their house stump and post fittings are available in both 75mm and 90mm systems, to suit most timber and floor frames, for use in domestic and light commercial applications.

They have been making our products since early 2006 and have a continual development program to address the needs of our customers and the building industry.
