New Backup Services

By Sunburnt Technology, 29 January 2014

Sunburnt Internet Marketing is happy to announce that we have recently upgraded our backup server to a more stable and secure network. You'll be glad to know our platform backs up your data on a daily basis so that in the unlikely situation that our network spontaneously explodes your account is safe and can be restored rapidly.

Still, you can never have too many backups. That's why we're also offering a DVD backup service that puts all your account data directly in YOUR hands.

When you order a backup DVD we export all your account data in a platform-agnostic way so that you won't be tied to any particular software if our service fails for you. The backup DVD includes:

- A static browsable export of your website
- All your contact lists and contacts
- All your online store transactions

The total cost is just $49 including exporting all your data, burning it to DVD and sending it through the post anywhere in Australia (contact us for postage outside Australia).

If you'd like a backup DVD of your account just send us an email and we'll get onto it straight away.
