[New Feature] Attach Multiple Products To One Page

By Sunburnt Technology, 17 July 2014

Today we released an update which allows you to attach multiple products to your product pages. This is useful if you have a number of related products but you don't want to create a separate page for each product. Some examples could be:

- products of different sizes

- boxes of different amounts

- any other variation of your products

When you have multiple products attached to a page, you will see separate "Buy Now" and "Add to Cart" buttons for each product:

Please note here is NO LONGER a price box on the page editor. Instead you need to use the "edit" links o attached products. You'll see these when you're logged in:
