Roles and Requirements

Role	Skills requ
Developer You are responsible for setting up websites, from domain name registration, software installation and configuration, through to deployment. You will also write software to handle specific requirements that need custom development.	• Linux • Java
Designer Your job is to make our customers' websites look beautiful and consistent across the leading browsers. You live and breath CSS, use tables for tabular data and know way too much about the box model bug. Graphic design is also a part of your arsenal.	• CSS 2 • The G Photo • Inksca other vecto graph sofwa • Hand-crafte design
Editing and Support You are a formatting and grammar nazi. Inconsistent font sizes and paragraph spacing make you cringe and you probably like to line up the little packets of sugar when you're eating at a cafe. You're comfortable with people and like to help them get what they want.	• Basic docum editing
